

YALE FRESHMEN VICTORS.

They Win the Triangular Boat Race on the Thames.

THEIR THIRD VICTORY.

Harvard Came in Second and Columbia a Poor Third.

Hereinbefore Columbia Has Been Able to Defeat Harvard—Odds of Three to One on Yale with No Takers—Other Sporting News.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 28.—For the third consecutive time Yale freshmen today won the annual triangular boat race on the Thames by the Columbia by thirteen lengths in the time of 10:23. This year's race differs from the two immediately preceding ones in that Columbia finished a poor third today while she has been able to defeat Harvard heretofore. The Yale men recklessly offered odds of 3 to 1 on their 96 crew, but the money went crying. However, all that was put up on the relative position of Harvard and Columbia at the finish. The partisans of three contending colleges exhibited all the patriotic enthusiasm of the university. Yale took gave that boat the best course the central one, Harvard chose the west and Columbia was left to take the east side.

At 5:45 the referee gave the signal. Columbia's start was suspicious. Yale rowed away slowly, but in fine shape, and Harvard splashed and floundered miserably. A hundred yards from the start Columbia and Yale tied and Harvard was a few feet behind. As the half mile race was passed Yale was three lengths in the lead, Columbia still keeping a scanty lead over Harvard. Yale was four lengths ahead at the mile post and Harvard worked out a lead of a length.

At the mile and a half Harvard had two lengths lead over the Columbia crew and Yale was six lengths in head. A half mile from the finish the race was decided and Yale and Harvard rowed with assurance of victory.

In the Columbia boat they pulled like galley slaves, but their efforts were fruitless, and finally ended by the Yale crew catching a crab, lost his balance as well as his oar, and fell back into the lap of No. 6. It was lucky that only momentary confusion resulted. The three crews crossed the finish line in the following order: Yale, 10:23; Harvard, 10:47; Columbia, 11:02.

Last of the Cowboys Arrive.
CHICAGO, June 28.—The last of the cowboy racers came in today, George Jones arriving early in the morning and "Doc" Middleton reaching the gates shortly after noon.

George Jones and Battelnahe Pote, two of the contestants in the cowboy race, claim that Berry, Albright, Gillespie and Smith, the first four men rode in the race at night during the race, and that Pote and Berry are the only men who rode a fair race. This statement is corroborated by the correspondent of a local paper who came over the road on a bicycle.

RAILEY COURT MARTIAL.

The Captain Takes the Stand in His Own Defense.

BOISE, Ida., June 28.—[Special.]—In the court martial sitting on the case of Captain E. L. Bailey, the accused took the stand in his own defense today. He went into a long statement about the various indictments set forth in the charges against him. In the matter of visiting Rose Schaefer's barge after having been placed under arrest, the captain admitted that he had gone there on the night in question with a party of men. This was followed by the production by the judge advocate of a letter which the captain had written to department headquarters. In this letter he sought to explain his visit to the place, stating that he had gone there for the purpose of securing evidence in relation to the saloon affair, in which it is alleged he indulged in boisterous conduct with the Schaefer woman. He further said that he went to the house in a closed carriage and avoided meeting anyone in the establishment. Another significant question was passed by a member of the court asking Bailey if he considered himself incapacitated. In reply to this the captain reviewed his military career, stating that his service had been severe and that he sometimes thought he was no longer fit for duty.

NINETEEN INJURED.

A Floor Gives Way While a Presentation Is Being Made.

CHICAGO, June 18.—While employees in the decorating department of the World's fair were presenting a silver tea service to D. Millet, director of decorations, this afternoon, the floor on which they were standing suddenly gave way, precipitating 200 persons several feet to the ground, nineteen of whom sustained painful but not fatal injuries. The accident occurred in the color building, which is a small structure erected for working purposes and not one of the buildings for exhibits.

The presentation was just over and the men were thronging around Mr. Millet to congratulate him when suddenly the floor gave way with a terrific crash. The floor was constructed of thin boards and light scantlings and was not intended to stand any great strain.

HAWAIIAN AFFAIRS.

All Hope of Becoming Part of the United States Abandoned.

Leaders of the Provincial Government Casting About for Something Else—Don't Want a Protectorate.

HONOLULU, June 21.—American tongues are wagging in a vigorous manner at Minister Blount's refusal to participate in the coming Fourth of July celebration. Although he does not say so it is quite evident Mr. Blount looks upon the Fourth of July celebration as purely an annexation affair, and does not wish to participate in anything that could give an impression that he favored annexation.

The barkentine Pilo, which arrived from San Francisco yesterday, brought news of Minister Thurston's interview with President Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland's address is regarded here by annexationists as an indication that annexation will not be considered by his administration.

Now that hope of booming a part of the United States has been abandoned, in charge of the government are casting about for something else. They have apparently decided that if annexation fails they will not accept a protectorate until calling upon the United States to England to secure a stable government. If England will have none of it and the provisional government finds it cannot stand alone it will come back to the United States for protection.

HOME RULE BILL.

Gladstone Will Move a Resolution Looking to Expediting the Bill.

LONDON, June 28.—Gladstone made an announcement in the commons today which caused much joy among the Irish members and those of the Radical party who believe the time has come for the throwing out of many amendments to the home rule bill offered by the opposition for the purpose of delaying the passage of the measure. Gladstone stated that tomorrow he would move the adoption of a resolution calling upon the house to expedite the passage of the bill. The announcement was greeted with cheers by supporters of the government.

Gladstone's speech in terms of the resolutions were nearly prepared, and he hoped to communicate it to the house before the session closed. In reply to a question asked by A. J. Balfour, leader of the opposition, Gladstone said the resolution he proposed to move would be on the same principle as the resolution offered in 1887, though it would contain some important modifications. Gladstone was again cheered.

John Morley, chief secretary for Ireland, subsequently read the terms of the resolution. These provide that the bill shall be reported by July 31, and shall be clothed in four sections.

WAR IN SIAM.

French Gunboats to Bombard Bangkok, the Capital.

BANGKOK, Siam, June 28.—The French gunboat Latouche is anchored in the river opposite the center of Bangkok and has made preparations to fire upon the city. The topmasts of the gunboat have been struck and guns have been mounted in the fighting tops. The French admiral in the ship is expected to arrive in the morning from Saigon. Though the Siamese are anxious to maintain friendship with the French it has been quietly determined to resist aggression and preparations have been made for contingencies.

The defenses of the country may prove stronger than expected. Three ships have been sunk at the entrance of the Gulf of Thailand, and Bangkok is situated, about twenty miles from the mouth. This reduces the channel to the narrowest limits possible for use and the government is ready at a moment's notice to complete the blockade to prevent the ingress and egress of vessels.

ANTI-PARNELLITE ELECTED.

The Election in Northeast Cork Resulted in Avraham's Selection.

DUBLIN, June 28.—The election in Northeast Cork to fill the vacancy in the house of commons caused by the withdrawal from the house of Michael Davitt, anti-Parnellite, was held today. William Avraham, anti-Parnellite, was elected without opposition. It is thought that Davitt was granted a first class certificate by the bankruptcy court, his insolvency having caused his retirement from parliament. Avraham will retire and Davitt will offer himself for re-election.

SEAL POACHERS.

Russia Urged to Place a Cruiser in Russian Waters.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 28.—Viedomost publishes a sharp protest concerning the depredations of British American poachers in the sealing waters of Russia. The writer urges the government to place swift and strongly armed cruisers near the Commander Islands that they may drive off or capture foreign sealers visiting surrounding waters between March 15 and Nov. 1.

THE GERMAN ELECTION.

Final Returns All in, but Doubt Still Exists as to the Majority.

BERLIN, June 28.—Reports received today complete the returns from all the 37 electoral constituencies of the empire. The exact numerical relations of the parties nevertheless are still in doubt, as several candidates have reserved the decision concerning the military demand of the government. The situation is further complicated by the rejection of returns in five constituencies where irregularities violated the election laws. One of these constituencies is in Jerichow where Count Horbort Bismarck is supposed to have been elected.

If those constituencies are allowed according to returns, the list is divided generally as follows: Clericals 82, Social Democrats 45, Conservatives 77, Free Conservatives 25, National Liberals 57, Catholics 8, Alsatians 12, Anti-Semites 13, Richer Radicals 23, Radical Unionists 12, Poles 19, Independent Clericals 11, Bavarian Placants League 2, South German Democrats 11, Danes 1.

Of these 189 are contested for the army bill and 185 against it. Thirteen are classed as doubtful.

GOOD FOR HEALTH AND TOILET.

Some of the Uses to Which the Packerial Lemon May Be Put.

I was informed the other day that lemons would keep an indefinite time if placed in sour milk or water, says a writer in the Philadelphia Times. This is a receipt, however, which I shall not try, since the time of year has arrived when I do not care to keep my lemons. Indeed, the faster I can now use them the better for my family. We need their helpful acid to counteract the excess of fats which have, for caloric, been consumed—more, doubtless, than have been assimilated. Why now grow the weary, long-tired liver with blue pills, when lemons are supplied in lavish profusion? Surely they are the product of the soil which will do us more good than blue pills. Paterfamilias is suffering from biliousness, therefore I throw physic (blue pills) to the dogs—and, yes, what creatures will not touch the lemon? I have a steady lemon tree or lemonade. The excess of bile is thus summarily destroyed, and perchance a fevered liver, malaria threatens not touch the lemon. I forego with prepared the "Homon" cure, which is nothing more than lemons, rind and pulp, cut up in water—a pint of water to a lemon—and boiled down to one pint; one teaspoonful before a meal. Though sufficiently sour to give a marble bust a wry face, pharmacists claim it has cured cases so stubborn that quinine had no effect. It is a sugar-salt. Perhaps the little 3-year-old shows symptoms of a severe cold. I shall "nip it in the bud" by a fire warmth and a hot lemonade. If she is hoarse I shall bake a lemon-salt sugar-salt. I have done so before. The pleasant and palatable syrup thus formed will avert that cough which is dreaded. Nothing better can be done to impede a threatened pneumonia attack upon myself. The remnants of some of the lemons I shall give Biddy to rub her hands with after the weekly washing, thereby preventing the chapping which she so much dreads. Clean rind pieces from cooking I shall place in a glass jar, covering with alcohol, thereby manufacturing a superior quality of lemon essence. As a breakfast appetizer I shall remove the rind and pith of three lemons, then slice thin and strew with powdered sugar. The lemon-salt will be a very good pound foolish" to save at the present time my lemons.

SUMMARILY REMOVED.

The Collector at Portland, Oregon, Steps Out Quietly.

His Dismissal Based on Information Sent the President by Special Treasury Officers.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The president this morning summarily removed from office Mr. Lotan, collector of customs at Portland, Oregon. This unusual action was taken on receipt this morning of a telegram from special agents of the treasury department, who have been engaged some time in investigating fraudulent practices prevailing in the Puget Sound and Portland districts. The telegram states that they had information of the intended landing at Portland of a large number of Chinese coolies, hence Lotan's summary removal this morning. His deputy was placed in charge and will continue to act until Black, the new collector, qualifies.

On June 15 Collector Lotan, in disregard of official instructions from the treasury department, landed from the steamer Danube about two hundred and fifty Chinese claiming to be merchants, but who were described in the official report to the department as a seamy and uncleanly appearing lot of coolies. The Chinese coolies now expected to land at the steamship Haytian Republic en route to Portland and it is believed by the treasury department that if Collector Lotan had been left in office he would land them, without regard to law, as was done in the case of the Danube.

As far back as March 3, Collector Lotan was instructed by the treasury department as follows: "It is ascertained that many Chinese enter the United States upon fraudulent papers certifying them to be returning merchants. You are instructed to disregard such papers and refuse them entry unless it is proved to your satisfaction that persons presenting them have a right to land." Since that time many hundreds of Chinese have been landed at Portland upon bogus affidavits and certificates.

PORTLAND SURPRISED.

Lotan Is Interviewed Regarding His Retirement—More Surprised in Store.

PORTLAND, Or., June 28.—News from Washington this afternoon, that the president had summarily dismissed collector of customs, James Lotan, and placed Deputy Collector Pike in charge of the office was a genuine surprise, inasmuch as Lotan's successor has been named and will probably qualify Saturday. When seen this afternoon regarding his removal, Collector Lotan said: "I have just received a dispatch from the department at Washington instructing me to turn over the collector's office to Deputy Pike. I have done so and he is now in charge. I think this whole affair is at the instigation of a special agent of the treasury who was sent to this coast to work up trouble for the collector. Mr. Cleveland has stated that he would remove no Republican except for cause. The fact of the matter is they had no cause, and consequently had to find a cause. In view of the fact that on July 1 I will step out it seems as if I might have been allowed to retire in proper form."

Private information from Washington states that war will soon be waged for the arrest of a number of customs officers and certain individuals who have been connected with the smuggling ring. It is settled that Secretary Carlisle has announced his intention of making a vigorous prosecution and will be actively seconded by Attorney General Olney.

The steamship Haytian Republic was seized today, presumably by order of Special Treasury Agent Wood. Nothing is known of the arrest at the United States marshal's office, but complaint will probably be filed with the clerk of the United States court tonight or tomorrow. The ground for the seizure is not known, but it is said the trouble is the old charge of smuggling opium and Chinese.
